

MD. LEGION'S ADJUTANT TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Daniel H. Burkhardt, adjutant of the Maryland Department of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker at dedicatory exercises to be held Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock at Emmitsburg.

Burkhardt will speak at the dedication of a new honor roll honoring the men and women of the Emmitsburg area who served in the armed forces during World War II. The dedication is part of the annual Memorial exercises held in the Maryland community.

During the dedicatory program Sunday morning, the Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of the Elias Lutheran church, Emmitsburg, will deliver the dedicatory prayer—a duty that he performed 24 years ago when the memorial to the World War I veterans, a doughboy statue located in the western section of the town, was dedicated.

Exercises To Be Brief

Gold Star mothers and widows of the 11 Emmitsburgians who lost their lives while in the armed forces will participate in the program which includes the unveiling of the new honor roll constructed by the Francis X. Elder post of the American Legion.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post of Emmitsburg is joining with the American Legion for the ceremonies Sunday morning.

Veterans will meet at the Legion home at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning and then move to the Doughboy statue where wreaths will be placed in memory of the World War I dead. Memorial services will be held at the Reformed church in Emmitsburg after which the dedicatory services will be held in front of the Legion home.

Because it will be necessary for everyone to stand for the dedicatory exercises they will be completed within a half hour, the committee said. The street in front of the Legion home is to be blocked off for the period of the dedication to permit the audience to watch the observance. A loud speaker system is being installed.

ENROLLMENT AT FAIRFIELD'S SCHOOL JUMPS

The number of workers with families who have moved into the Fairfield area as a result of the government project at the Beard Lot is expected to cause an increase in the enrollment of the Fairfield joint school system, Principal George Inskip revealed today in announcing that the schools will hold a registration on Friday, June 1, for all youngsters entering school this fall.

Inskip said the registration was called early with the hope that the system will be able to have a complete list of first graders and others who will be entering the jointure's schools in September. He added that the registration will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., June 1, at the Fairfield school.

The number of families moving into the area as a result of the Beard Lot project has already increased the population of the Fairfield schools by six percent, Inskip said, with the grade school students now totaling 346.

Inskip said that about 50 had been expected for the first grade this fall, but said the large number of new families moving into the area is expected to greatly increase that estimated enrollment.

GOOD EVENING
Little Red Ridinghood
The modern girl would scorn her,
She only had to face one wolf,
Not one on every corner.

Tokyo, May 26 (AP) — United Nations troops today forged a second foothold in Red Korea and bolstered their original bridgehead in Communist territory.

The Reds continued to fall back all along the front.

U.S. Doughboys rammed up the main central Korean highway northwest of captured Chunchon in a pouring rain and rolled about two miles beyond the 38th parallel.

Red opposition was light as the infantry column stabbed within six miles of Hwachon, a former key Chinese bastion eight miles north of the pre-war political boundary.

Open Supply Route

To the east, American and French troops smashed through Chinese screening forces and swept up the Hongcheon-Inje road. The thrust opened a direct supply route to the Allied bridgehead across the Chongyang river on the east-central front.

The link-up with the bridgehead tightened the trap on suicidal Chinese fighting rearguard actions to keep open a six-mile escape route in the mountains near the road.

The American-French link up column knocked out Red resistance along the important Hongcheon-Inje road. The infantrymen captured six important hills commanding the route.

A U.S. task force reached Inje and South Korean forces to the east were reported to have occupied Yangyang, six miles north of the 38th parallel on the east coast.

Many Chinese Surrender

Fast-moving Allied units knifed across the parallel at several points on the east-central and eastern fronts Saturday. They advanced against almost no opposition from Chinese who, an officer said, surrendered "in numbers."

U.S. Marines took "many" prisoners who refused to fight.

No estimate has been made of the number of captured Chinese.

A U.S. Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds were not following their usual pattern of withdrawing in small groups and then reassembling.

He said there were "enemy on every trail and road north" from the central front.

"They just seem to want to get the hell out," the officer said.

Race Into Hills

Dwindling Chinese resistance Saturday indicated that most of the Reds who poured through a gap in United Nations lines at the start of the broken offensive had fled northward.

The Red screening forces, who fought fiercely Friday, faded into the hills Saturday, leaving many dead behind.

Nearly every advancing United Nations unit Saturday reported finding numerous Chinese dead — victims of the powerful Allied artillery and air barrages of the last few days.

A GI described the Allied advance:

"You just fire the artillery and mortars into the hills and then walk up them. The Chinks just take off. And there are so many dead on the hills that you have to be careful not to step on them."

FR. HUEGEL TO BE GIVEN HONORS

A four-day celebration is planned at Harrisburg, starting Sunday, to honor the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Peter S. Huegel, pastor of St. Lawrence's Catholic church, Harrisburg, and second-ranking prelate of the Harrisburg diocese, on his completion of fifty years in the priesthood next Friday. The Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, will have a major role in honoring the 74-year-old priest who has held practically every diocesan position while serving under three of Harrisburg's five Catholic bishops.

Monsignor Huegel studied for the priesthood at St. Vincent's college, Latrobe, and St. Charles' Seminary, Overbrook. After several years of service in smaller parishes, he went to St. Lawrence's in Harrisburg Sept. 21, 1910.

Although Monsignor Huegel's attention has been devoted mostly to his parish affairs, he has found time to serve capably in diocesan-wide positions on appointment from the

In the nightcap the young Elks outfit poured 11 runs over the plate in their first turn at bat and went on to score an easy 19-11 decision over the hapless Eagles. R. Dillman pounded out four hits for the victors, including a pair of homeruns. Carbaugh also homered for the Elks while Durboraw poled one for the Eagles.

London, May 26 (P)—Britain announced Friday she is sending her tough 16th Parachute Brigade to the Mediterranean island of Cyprus—within easy striking distance of Iran where the British have a major oil crisis on their hands.

Some 4,000 members of the brigade will sail in about 10 days for the fortress island. Officials said future movements of the trouble-shooting formation will rest with Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, commander-in-chief of British forces in the Middle East.

Ben Hogan Leads In Fort Worth Match

Fort Worth, Tex., May 26 (P)—The field was bunched like a talk of bananas today as the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament pulled into its third round with golf's Little Icicle—imperturbable Ben Hogan—leading by a single stroke.

The Mighty Mite slumped to one-over-par 71 yesterday but no one else could catch up. Hogan, who had led the first round with 68, brought his 36-hole score to 139 and that beat off the challenge of tall Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis, Tenn., exponent, who had the lead in his hip pocket and lost it on the last four holes.

Middlecoff had to settle for a 71 also and enters the third 18 holes with a total of 140.

A stroke back of Middlecoff was Johnny Palmer, the chunky Badin, N. C., veteran who did even par 70 over the troublesome 7,035-yard Colonial Country club course.

RICHARDS DOING AMAZING JOB ON CHISOX SQUAD

By RALPH RODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Paul Richards is out front in the manager of the year race for his masterful job of piloting the amazing Chicago White Sox.

Rookie Richards inherited a chronic second division team but he has the Sox humming on all cylinders today.

The Sox, primarily a collection of players culled from other clubs, are riding the crest of an eight game winning streak today and breathing on the neck of the defending champion New York Yankees.

Only one player, rookie Jim Busby, who helped the Sox to a 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians last night, is a product of the Chicago farm system. All the others were either obtained in trades or bought from other farm systems.

A's Rally Falls Short

The Sox hopped on Bob Lemon for three runs in the second inning and were never headed. The victory kept the Sox two games behind New York. The Yanks defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5.

Lefty Ed Lopat started for the Yanks and gained credit for his eighth victory without a defeat. Lopat was knocked out of the box for the first time this season when the A's rallied for three runs in the eighth inning.

Boston's up and coming Red Sox smeared the Washington Senators, 14-2. Chuck Stobbs coasted to his fifth victory allowing only six hits. Home runs by Don Lenhardt and Johnny Bero led the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 triumph over the Tigers in a night game at Detroit. Bero, a former Tiger, won the game with a home run in the seventh inning. Vic Wertz clouted two home runs for the Tigers.

Preacher Roe, the Brooklyn "meal ticket," won his sixth straight, 4-3, over Boston. The Preacher singled home catcher Roy Campanella with the deciding run in the seventh.

Brooks, Giants Win
The Brooks upped their lead to three games by winning while St. Louis lost to Cincinnati, 5-1.

Connie Ryan struck the decisive blow in an 11-inning struggle between Cincinnati and St. Louis with a grand slam homer off Red Munger in the 11th.

The New York Giants came from behind and downed the Phillies, 8-5. The Giants showed over five runs in the eighth inning. Whitey Lockman's two-run double was the big blow of the uprising.

The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 10-1, in the only day game.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)
The Hagerstown Braves, pacing the Class B Interstate league, chalked up their ninth straight victory last night at the expense of the hapless, last place Salisbury club.

Bill Allen gave up only seven hits to the Salisbury batters to cop his sixth straight triumph 4-2. The loss pushed Salisbury 15 games behind the pace-setting Braves who lead second-place Lancaster by a game and a half.

Lancaster kept pace with Hagerstown by outslugging Harrisburg 8 to 6. The Red Roses were behind until the sixth frame when they tallied four runs to grab the lead they never lost.

Sunbury's Athletics defeated Allentown 5 to 4 behind the five-hit pitching of righthander Rudy Yandoli. The win kept Sunbury in third place, two and a half games behind Lancaster.

Wilmington scored its second straight victory over seventh-place York, 8 to 1, and climbed into a fourth-place tie with Allentown. Both clubs are six games out of first.

Tonight's games—York at Hagerstown, Salisbury at Wilmington, Allentown at Lancaster, Harrisburg at Sunbury.

Baer Fails To Answer Bell For 7th Round: (By Gayle Talbot) Washington, May 24 (AP) — Buddy Baer, the 17th victim of Joe Louis, since the Alabama negro became heavyweight champion, put up a surprisingly good fight before he failed to come out for the seventh round at Griffith stadium last night.

The towering Buddy made a stout showing. He knocked Louis smack through the ropes in the opening round, bringing awed hesitant cheers from the stands and he generally comported himself with honor until the moment when his manager, Ancil Hoffman, took advantage of a thin technicality to end the fight in confusion.

Hoffman claimed that Louis clouted Buddy after the bell rang ending the sixth round. He was correct in this by the matter of a half second, perhaps, but it wasn't important. Baer was badly beaten

THE READING HABIT
I can think of no habit so valuable, and so far reaching in its influence on character and upon all that we do, as the habit of regular reading. A well nourished mind is every bit as important as a well nourished body.

Once the habit of reading is established, new worlds open up, ambition is stimulated, and a desire for knowledge is increased every day. There is such a variety of reading and the opportunity to read only that which most interests one is before us all. Or, if we take up with a specialty — books dealing with a subject that interests us most — we get the thrill of hunting and discovering.

Books that become friends never desert one. Their first impressions remain, and their richness increases and enlarges as time goes on. We can turn to our book friends for comfort and relaxation as well as for peace of mind. The best of one's mind goes into his book.

Walking into a well stocked library is like walking into a room of friends, each one expecting you. Through books you can travel the world, delve into the secrets of the earth, and meet those who have been the leaders in shaping the ways of this world. Nothing is so fascinating and inspiring as the life story of a great human being.

Once you cultivate a love of books that love will never desert you, but enrich each year of your life, and add to your personality, always making you a most welcomed friend. Well read people are sought out and invited for other people wish to learn from them.

What books should you read? The ones that most interest you. You go to a book store where they are to be found, get introduced to them, as to human friends, and from them on you select and tie to the ones that inspire and instruct you most. Reading taste is different among us all. It is our privilege to read only those books which we like best.

No sleeping pills have ever been able to adequately compete with a good book read just before retiring for the night. I can well testify to this fact. It always invites "pleasant dreams!"

THE GRUDGE
He carried a grudge and the weight of it grew.

He vowed he'd get even for one blow, with two.

"It may take me years," in ill-temper he said,
"But I'll look for revenge till the day I am dead."

"I'll never be happy till that debt is paid!"
And that was the truest of statements he'd made,
For the grudge that he carried so weighed on his mind
That peace and contentment grew fanner to find.

But, fancied or real, it had brightened his lot
Had the wrong he complained of been promptly forgot,
All have burdens to carry as forward we trudge,
But there's nothing so heavy to bear as a grudge.

SIXTH GRADERS ARE GRADUATED FRIDAY EVENING

The third annual sixth grade promotion exercises of the Littlestown Joint School system were held Friday evening in the high school auditorium. The program opened with a procession including the 88 members of the promotion class. The invocation was given by the Rev. Arthur E. Leeming, superintendent of the Hoffman orphanage, near town. The members of the sixth grade presented a play entitled "The King's Decree," with the following characters: Trumpeteer, Kenneth Koontz; herald, John Shomper; mother, Bette Reaver; father, William Rebert; Catherine, Dorothy Johnson; Karl, Raymond Hilker; Mary, Mildred Koontz; men and women of the court, Barron Cornell, Robert Shadle, Doris Stoner and Marion Worley; and playmates, Gladys Hilker, Mary Mason, James Barnes, Ronald Bowers and Robert Stull. The play was directed by Miss Margaret Lohr and James L. Rhodes of the elementary faculty.

The guest speaker was Dr. Harvey A. Heintzelman, occupational information and guidance counselor of the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg. Mr. Heintzelman divided his address into three parts: first, talking to the entire group present, he said; "All people blame others for their troubles, because they lack the courage to think things out for themselves. The human race is naturally hysterical."

Then he talked to the parents, stressing the importance of the school and the progress it has made with a limited amount of materials and small amount of money. The speaker then addressed the members of the sixth grade on the subject, "Operation Tomorrow." He explained the "Four Nations":

"Examination, seeing if you have the ability to do what you want; second imagination, in which you should consider your day dreams seriously; third, destination, know where you want to go and how to get there, and determination, set your goal, know the path, and don't let anything stop you."

Awards Given

The words to the class song were written by Albert H. Snyder, a member of the class, to the tune of "O, Little Town of Bethlehem." The group sang the song, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Joan C. Wilt, music supervisor of the joint school system. A cornet duet, "Promotion March," was played by Richard Horner and Kenneth Koontz, accompanied by Mrs. Wilt. Announcement of awards by the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, and Auxiliary was made by Ralph Shaffer, commander of the post. The awards were medals presented to Richard Horner, the most outstanding boy of class, and to Mary Ann Burgoon, the most outstanding girl of the class, by Mrs. James W. Fager, president of the Legion Auxiliary.

Charles I. Raffensperger, assistant superintendent of the Adams County schools, spoke briefly after which he presented diplomas to the following: M. Colleen Angstead, Joan E. Emmitsburg LEGION PLANS "CRADLE ROLL"

The American Legion and auxiliary will sponsor a Cradle Roll for the benefit of veterans' children.

All men and women who are veterans of World War I, World War II and the present Korean conflict are asked to cooperate. Registration age is from birth to 12 years.

Parents do not have to belong to the Legion but must be veterans. These certificates when filled out in all details establish a permanent record, and can be of great value in helping establish eligibility to membership in patriotic organizations, perhaps in other benefits as well, a Legion official pointed out. Grandchildren, nieces and nephews are not eligible.

There is no cost to the veteran; the only requirements is the service record of eligibility.

Cradle Roll committee: Mrs. Curtis Topper, chairman; Mrs. Ann Shorb, Mrs. Laura Rosensteel, Mrs. Ethel Baumgardner, Mrs. Carmen Topper, Mrs. Kathleen Shorb, Mrs. Madeleine Harner and Mrs. Margaret Brown. Registrations will be made at Legion home, Saturday, June 2, June 9 and June 23 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. or contact any members of the committee.

There will be a corn game at the Legion home this evening.

The same people who used to save for a rainy day now save for a sunny convertible.

Is Motoring Necessary?

It does not seem possible but the automobile industry is off to a major campaign to emphasize the fact that 71 per cent of the families who own cars are dependent upon them for transportation and a living. Furthermore, some 18 million cars in America alone are over 10 years old. What the automobile industry and trade want to emphasize is that motoring is not all new convertibles and hoop-la and that present proposals to restrict car buying and to tax cars out of the reach of the general public may turn out to be the boomerang that will hamper the security of the free world. In the industry it is generally agreed that automobile men are up against the problem of actually defending the automobile as a necessity, but the car owner will find that he also has a role to play—one that is going to take up quite a bit of his time.

His own apathy has already cost him a fortune in gasoline which would be a relatively cheap product without the ridiculous tax which has come along by those surreptitious penny-a-gallon boosts. Today he is paying as much in hidden and direct car taxes as he used to pay for an entire car.

Try It Some Time

If you have occasion to remove the cylinder head of the motor and the job is presenting difficulties, just remember that the head can be loosened by cranking the motor. Compression building up inside the cylinders will exert a strong upward push on the head and do an excellent and natural job of breaking the gasket seal.

It appears to surprise some motorists to discover that now that they are out on the open road again oil mileage is better than it was during the short runs of the winter. This seems to reverse the general rule, and for some it probably does. But there are good reasons for improved mileage with warmer weather. Here they are:

The engine is operating hotter and that provides better ring extension and oil control. The oil is new and of heavier grade. While there may be an increase in speed average there probably is less sudden slowing down. Around town the tendency is for up-and-down driving to cause oil loss through sudden throttle closing. Much of the time in winter the oil is too light.

Mechanic Joe Speaking
"Through long experience I have learned how to avoid going off the deep end on diagnosis by thinking of the things which have not happened to a car that is ailing. Take the case of suspicion of a cylinder head gasket leak."

"If there also is a drop in the water level of the radiator the temptation is to assume that water is leaking past the head gasket and is running into the cylinders. But, faced with this possibility, I try the starter and find that the engine cranks normally. If there were an internal water leak the pistons would not be able to move because water is incompressible."

Wrong Kind Of Kindness
A friend of mine made the rather natural mistake of thinking that after a ring job the engine would be given a helping hand by slow idling it as much as possible. It resulted in the cylinder walls being scuffed and the job being ruined. Here's why:

When idling, the engine's oil pressure is low. An overhauled engine needs more than the usual amount of oil because of the tighter fitting parts and the higher operating temperature during the break-in period. The engine should not be raced, of course, but faster idling and frequently mild acceleration are needed to speed up the oiling. That is why I believe it pays to let the engine stall a few times when starting it up for the day. This takes care of a natural lag in lubrication.

For Future Reference

Another little pointer to remember in the event of an emergency is what to do if you are trapped with one of the driving wheels, in sand. This can be quite a hopeless mire if the situation isn't handled with the greatest of skill. Some seasoned travelers report that it may help the situation to pour water on the sand around the wheel. Since the car is likely to be trapped on a beach there's water handy. One of the wheel covers will hold water.

Car Named "Neglected"

Careful souls will derive no comfort whatever from this item but I feel that it is worth mentioning if only to show how perverse some folk can be and how amazing is this article we know as the self-propelled vehicle. It concerns the true story of the owner of a 1940 car who has had it greased just twice in all the years it has served him. He does change oil twice a year. All of his tires are recaps. His friends do not know if the car is operating on the same plugs it was born with, but from all indications he treats the car to none of the services which the rest of us consider essential. Some day, of course, his folly will catch up with him. But what a tribute to the car makers. They tell me this car doesn't run too well at low speeds in traffic but seems to hum along the road. Nor does it squeak. Clearly a museum piece.

If the rear wheels spin when starting off on a muddy spot, and if the car is equipped with automatic gearing which prevents you from trying to start off in high the thing to do, in addition to curbing motor power as much as possible, is hold the hand brake partly on. This helps check power being delivered to the rear wheels and will help the situation considerably.

Testing For Ping

Cars with automatic transmissions and torque converters can't be tested for ignition precision by the simple business of noting if a ping can be heard when picking up fast from a car speed of 15 miles per hour in high gear. The automatics will be helping the engines by gearing down or by increasing torque. With this type of power transmission the road testing should be done on upgrades. Here the ignition should be advanced enough to cause a slight ping when the car is pushed hard. It should be possible to ease off on the gas enough to check the ping yet without losing speed.

In The Motor Mail

Q. Will you kindly offer some suggestions regarding the over-heating of the motor of my car? Everything has been flushed out, and there is no clutch slippage or brake shoe drag. I have even replaced the pressure cap of the radiator with a conventional one. H. T. R.

A. The pressure cap should have been retained as this will help the situation. You may have a collapsing lower radiator hose, late ignition timing, a pinched tail pipe or a leaky cylinder head gasket.

Q. I am planning to hook-up a pipe from the crankcase to the carburetor so that excess vapors will be re-used in the motor. Should I cap the oil filler pipe? Wm. K. L.

A. I don't recommend this at all. The crankcase fumes will upset normal carburetion.

Q. My engine is equipped with a top cylinder oiler for better cold lubrication of the rings and walls. Would you also advise occasional use of oil additives in the crankcase? H. T. R.

A. Yes, I would. The additives will help keep the engine clean and will make for better valve action.

Q. What is the idea of using bonded brake lining? I don't see how it stays in position on the brake shoes without rivets. H. P.

A. The bonding is so expertly done there is no chance of the lining coming loose. Elimination of the rivets puts an end to the holes which can and do catch dirt. Less chance, too, of scratching the brake drum.

Q. I have a hard time closing the doors to lock them because the body is so tight. I can leave the ventilators open, but not in bad weather. Is there any remedy for this? R.H.B.

A. An enterprising company has come up with a special pressure vent which is installed in the body dash wall.

Q. There is occasional clicking in the engine of my car. Doesn't sound quite as loud as a loose tappet. M. F. D.

A. This motor has hydraulic valve lifters. There's a little dirt in one of them which may work itself out. Better change the oil and check the cartridge of the oil filter which may need replacing.

Q. Is it characteristic of all engines with aluminum alloy pistons to slap when cold? D. McB.

A. No. Many engines have special pistons with cast-in steel inserts to overcome this difficulty.

Q. What is used to flush out hydraulic brakes? H. J. B.

A. Denatured alcohol. Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford, 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

RADIO

New York, May 26 (AP) — Overall effect of the projected merger of the ABC network and United Paramount Theaters, Inc., cannot but help strengthen the position of ABC in both the radio and television fields, most observers feel.

Naturally, the amalgamation must be approved by stockholders of both companies as well as by the Federal Communications Commission, which, because of the basic change in ownership of the network's five TV and five standard and FM stations, will have an important say. However, no particular obstacles are foreseen in the ultimate consummation of the merger.

The immediate principal point of advantage to ABC, not overlooked in Harrisburg. Their granddaughter, Miss Annie Boyd, formerly of North Carolina, who lives at the Newton home, has also been in ill health and under medical care.

Myers, Betty L. Rabenstein and Ruth A. Pyles.

Harvey Hunter, Sr., was taken seriously ill over the week-end and removed to the Hanover hospital where he has been under treatment.

They are: President, Mrs. Charles Burgard; vice president, Mrs. John S. Royer; secretary, Mrs. Martin Winters; treasurer, Mrs. Dale Rohrbaugh, and historian, Mrs. Glen W. Boyer. At this meeting the retiring president, Mrs. Raymond Aitland, had charge. Refreshments were served at the conclusion.

ing the injection of theatrical know-how through the Paramount company and the important added financial support, is expected to show itself in programming. There is no question that since the ascendancy of television, ABC has not been keeping in full step with its principal rivals, NBC and CBS.
